

WORLD POLITICS GROUP TO MEET EVERY WEEK

Post-election awareness of the need for an increased understanding of foreign affairs has brought a sharp increase in inquiries about the Palos Park and Flossmoor World Politics discussion group.

Claude Wells, Director of the Chicago area program at University College, said in an interview today: "There is an increasing consciousness on the part of the public that intelligent support for the foreign policy of a new president calls for greater understanding of the basic problems of foreign affairs."

The community program is built around discussions of such questions as "Is War inevitable?" "Can democracy and Communism exist peacefully, side by side?" "Would the following policies bring peace... domination, isolation, world government, balance of power?" "What principles should guide our foreign policy?" However, no pretence is made of offering any final answers to them. You and you alone form the judgments or answers to these questions.

Participants are not promised a short cut to world peace; no blueprints for a new world society are presented. The program indulges in no propaganda. Nor is there any political or ideological bias to be found.

The program is strictly an adult education activity whose only objective is to encourage intelligent, mature examination of problems in world affairs. The discussion method is employed rather than lectures or other methods because it avoids creating the impression that some one person has the final solution to a given problem.

A discussion group consists of thirty participants meeting for two hours once a week for ten weeks. Each group has two leaders. The leaders are not experts in international relations; rather, they are trained in the principles of good discussion. They are, in the majority of cases, residents of the community.

The real experts, the advocates of specific solutions, the special readers are the authors of the reading material.

No formal education background is required for participation.

Co-sponsors of the Chicago area program are University College, the University of Chicago (Continued on back page)

Raises 135 Bushels Of Corn per Acre

It takes good farming in any man's county to raise 135 bushels of corn per acre, but that's exactly what Arthur Plote of Palatine did when he won top honors in his county. Mr. Plote received a beautiful Champion's plaque with his name engraved upon it. The presentation of this award was made at a banquet held in DeKalb Thursday December 11. Mr. Plote used DeKalb 406, which won the honors for him.

The Fifteenth National Corn Growing Contest had more than five thousand farmers from all over the corn belt entered this year. Twenty-five states and Canada were represented.

Many Enjoy Yule Party by Mokena's Christmas Tree

Many gathered around the Christmas tree on Front street in Mokena, Tuesday night, December 23, for the Christmas party, the occasion having been postponed from the previous evening because of inclement weather. There was a very good attendance, and everybody had a fine time. Santa Claus was there to greet all the children, who sang Christmas carols under the direction of Oliver Keisler, of Mokena. Every child present received a box of crackerjack and a toy from Santa.

The party followed a period of fog and rain which had posed a threat, but it cleared nicely during the day, and the evening was fair, although a little on the nippy side. Many eager youngsters were on hand some what in advance of the scheduled hour for the party, 7:30 pm. The occasion was equally enjoyed by young folks and oldsters. One old timer remarked, "This is just about as good as a Homecoming."

The Christmas party, which is an annual occurrence in Mokena, was sponsored by the Mokena Civic association.

Audrey Niethammer and Donald Reiter Speak Nuptial Vows in Joliet Church

At a beautiful Christmas wedding performed in St. Mary's church in Joliet, Saturday afternoon December 27 at 4:30 o'clock, Miss Audrey Niethammer of Mokena became the bride of Mr. Donald Reiter of Joliet.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Niethammer of Mokena and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Reiter of Joliet.

The altar of the church was decorated with many red poinsettia plants and pine trees were at one side of the altar. Rev. Fabian officiated at the double ring ceremony. Sprigs of Evergreen and white ribbon bows marked the news for the families and relatives.

Mrs. Gallagher presided at the organ, and accompanied Miss Donna Porfilio when she sang, "Ave Maria."

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was lovely in a winter white taffeta floor length gown. The fitted bodice was made with a boat neck line outlined with a fold of the same material, with small buttons down the back and long tapered sleeves. The hoop skirt was of full net over white winter taffeta. She wore a Juliette cap with white seed pearls from which fell the shoulder length veil of illusion net. Her jewelry was a choker string of pearls and she carried a cascade of white steh-anotis with white satin ribbon ties.

The bride's attendants were Miss Jo Anne Rueckert of Mokena, maid of honor, Miss Catherine Kuhar of Joliet and Miss Dolores Cooper, cousin also of Mokena. They were dressed identically to the bride except their gowns were ballerina length, with a sleeveless bodice. They wore white mits, Juliette caps and carried cascade bouquets of red poinsettias. Their choker pearls were a gift from the bride.

The groom's attendants were John Schere, a classmate from the University of Wisconsin, James Needham, Mokena, and Jack Bush, Joliet. Roman Holloway and Fred Breen of Joliet brothers-in-law of the groom, were ushers.

Mrs. Niethammer chose a dress of blue taffeta for her daughter's wedding with a pink hat and gloves and a corsage of pink camellia. The groom's mother wore a purple taffeta gown with a winter white hat and gloves and a white camellia corsage. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Elmer Cooper, wore a purple silk crepe gown, a winter white hat and a white "mum" corsage.

The wedding dinner was served at 6 o'clock to 24 guests in the American room of the Hotel. Louis Joliet. Beside the bride's family members. The long U-shaped table was centered at the head of the room with a lovely arrangement of flocked Scotch pines, variegated holly tied with red and white ribbons and containing three white candles. Similar smaller arrangements were on other sections of the table.

A reception was held in the dining room of the hotel from 8 to 10 o'clock which was attended by 200 guests. The serving tables were decorated similar to the dining table. Presiding at the coffee urn was Miss Karen Bauman, the bride's room mate at the University of Wisconsin, assisted by Mrs. Donald Haley of Cullom. Miss Sandra Cline of Elwood and her cousin Miss Marilyn Cooper, presided at the punch bowl. Another JTHS classmate, Miss Joyce Horvath, Joliet, and Mrs. George Boyce, cousin, of Lockport, served the wedding cake and the bride's grandmother was in charge of the guest book.

When Mr. and Mrs. Reiter left by motor the same evening for a short honeymoon trip to Florida, she was wearing a brown suit with winter pink accessories. They will reside in an apartment at 421 Willow avenue, Joliet.

The bride was graduated from the Joliet Township High school and is now attending the University of Wisconsin. She will resume her studies there January 5.

The groom was graduated from the Catholic high school in Joliet.

Mokena Lions to Hold Charter Night Sat. January 31

The Mokena Lions wish to extend greetings for a most prosperous New Year to the residents of Mokena and vicinity.

Mrs. Elizabeth Cappel and her faculty are to be congratulated for the splendid Christmas program given by the grade school children Friday, December 19. This is such a fine traditional affair that we hope it will be with us always.

Likewise a vote of appreciation is due Sister Mary Charlotte and her aides for the Christmas party held in St. Mary's the following Monday evening.

The Mokena Lions are proud that they were invited by the PTA and the Sacred Heart League to participate in both programs in furnishing gifts for the children. Incidentally the rapid growth in both schools is illustrated by the fact that 197 gifts were distributed in the public school and 90 in St. Mary's, while 120 were given to the preschool children.

The money remaining from the windshield washing project, some forty odd dollars, will be set aside for similar projects in the future.

Plans were discussed at the last meeting as to the feasibility of flooding a suitable site for ice skating and provided the necessary permission can be obtained from the proper authorities, there will be ice skating this season.

The date for the Charter Night Banquet has been set for Saturday, January 31 according to John Scarth, chairman of Charter Night. Further details will be announced in the very near future.

The next regular meeting will be on Wednesday, January 7 at the VFW hall at 8:00 pm.

WHITE'S HOME IN LINCOLN ESTATE BURNS TO GROUND

Flames Force Two Families Into Cold;
Frankfort Fire Dept. Refused to Respond

They Are Grateful

May we take this opportunity to most sincerely thank the volunteer firemen of the village of Mokena, together with their fire fighting equipment, for their recent efforts to save our home in Frankfort. We also extend our thanks to those volunteer firemen of the village of Frankfort who answered the fire call, but who were left without the equipment with which to operate.

No doubt these volunteers felt a bit sheepish that their equipment never did arrive at the scene of our fire. They must have really put a lot of faith and trust in their fellow man and neighbor, the firemen's organizational official, who with arms folded, refused to let the equipment leave the firehouse. A perfect picture of another Simon Legree. No doubt this so called "servant of humanity" had knelt in prayer at his house of worship the previous day, Christmas, and had listened to a sermon of brotherly love. Did this man attend church and forget his listenings. This "defender of our community and country" must be real proud to see a World War I Veterans home burn to the ground. Did he lift a finger during either of our country's conflicts so that he would know "what was worth fighting for? Did he know that in that home lived a boy, home on furlough, that doesn't even have the uniform to put on his back, to report back to his military installation?

We are informed that the reason that the Frankfort Fire Department did not respond to call was that our name was not pledged. We would like to give fair warning to all who have pledged, to check and see that your names ARE on the records. Ours were there. They were scratched off. When? Why? For what reason? By whom? Why were we not notified of our position? Is this the usual procedure for an organization who depends upon their own and other surrounding communities for support of their yearly activities to raise funds?

We understand that the Mokena Fire Department is self supporting. Bring your tickets around at any time boys, we'll buy them, sell them, attend your doings and support your organization, just as we have the Frankfort organization in PAST years. Are we being presumptuous to assume that Frankfort's Department is for the chosen few? Those who "pledge" or "subscribe".

Thanks again Mokena, we are certainly proud to be one of you.

Jerry Lehmann Named Class Orator At Joliet Town. High

Jerry Lehmann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lehmann, of Mokena, a senior in Joliet township high school, received top honors Wednesday, December 17, when Supt. Hugh S. Bonar named him class orator. Jerry was last year's Adam Award winner and was a recent contestant in the Hearst national history competition. A class poet was selected at the same time.

Teachers submitted the names of students they thought had poetic or oratorical ability. Then a committee met and chose the students on the basis of oratorical and scholastic ability and character.

Fire burned the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ival "Doc" White, in Lincoln Estates, to the ground early Friday morning, and the family barely escaped with their lives. Nothing was saved. This home was owned by Herb Hilgendorf, of Mokena, who rented it, furnished, to the Whites. Mr. Hilgendorf carried insurance on the building and furniture, but the personal belongings of the Whites, together with some priceless heirlooms which were lost in the blaze, were not insured.

At about 4:30 a.m. the daughter Patsy White, 16, who is a student at Orland High school, was awakened suddenly and sensed something wrong. She immediately awakened her brother, Dick, who was home from Great Lakes for a Christmas leave. Dick investigated and discovered there was considerable smoke in the house.

The two aroused their parents and their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ross White, who were living with them. Mrs. White was able to reach the phone and put in a call to the Frankfort fire department, but could not wait for them to answer as the smoke was too dense, so she told the operator to notify the fire department that their home in Lincoln Estates was on fire and going fast. The fire had already reached such a stage that it was necessary for the family to get out of the building in their night clothes, although it was a cold morning, with the temperature standing at about 18 above. Dick made his escape by jumping through a window in his shorts.

Mrs. White went back into the house once, when she heard Mr. White's brother, Ross, calling. Ross, who has been ill for sometime, came here with his wife from California following a serious operation, to recuperate. Mrs. White was forced back by smoke, but was overjoyed upon emerging to learn that Ross was already outside, having gotten out through a bedroom window.

Mr. White, who is familiarly known as "Doc," got the family into his car and drove them to the junction of Routes 30 and 45 where he operates a service station. Some coats and other clothing was available there, which the family donned as protection from the cold. As the fire department had not yet responded, Mr. White drove to the village fire station and told them of the disaster. The firemen had already gathered there and were ready to go out, but Walter Pfaff, village clerk, refused to permit the fire truck to go out, saying the Whites were not listed as subscribers to the fire department fund. Mr. White then immediately called the Mokena fire department, who responded at once, but by that time the fire had gained too much headway and the house burned to the ground.

The cause of the fire was undetermined, but Mrs. White said that while she was putting in the first call to the fire department while in her burning home she was able to see into a small entrance way in the back of the house where electric controls were installed. This seemed to her to be the spot where the fire originated, and it was the place from which the most smoke was issuing.

With regard to fire protection, every home owner in Frankfort and Lincoln Estates had been asked to contribute $25 or more to the fire department when it was organized a few years ago. The Hilgendorfs stated they had paid $25 and were living in the village of Frankfort at that time. They then sold that building in Frankfort and bought the one in Lincoln Estates a few miles east, and talked matters over with the Frankfort fire department as to what would become of their fire protection. The fire department, according to the Hilgendorfs, said they would just transfer their protection to this new home.

The Whites lost in this fire, in addition to all of their clothing, many things difficult to replace and some things quite beyond price. For example, Mrs. White's grandfather, Dr. Searles, who was a much beloved physician in New Lenox years ago, moved to Texas to benefit the health of his ailing wife. At the time of their going, New Lenox gave them a farewell party and presented them with a beautiful set of sterling silverware, a set which had now come down to the fourth generation. This precious heirloom was destroyed in the fire. The two Mrs. Whites each lost their eye glasses, which they can hardly see without, and Mrs. Ross White lost a set of dentures.

The Whites have three sons in the service right now. Despite this service to their country their house was allowed to burn to the ground under their very eyes. Clifford is in Germany with the army, Robert is with the navy and at present away at sea, and Dick, who served here before going to Italy and

FRANKFORT COLLECTS $10,374 ON PLEDGES IN CIVIC DRIVE

Last summer, Frankfort, a community of 700 people, put on a drive to raise funds for various community improvements and projects, including a baseball diamond all centered in the village park. Nearly everybody in town pledged a certain amount to this worthy cause, but some did so with the proviso that they would fulfill their pledge if the others came in as pledged. There is no longer any reason for holding back for now more than four-fifths of the pledges have been paid up, and there is no longer any question—if there ever was—that the Frankfort community development is going to go places. The total amount of personal pledges paid in to date is $5432.50. The highest single personal pledge amounted to $250. Total amount paid in to date from all sources is $10,374.63. Work on the baseball diamond will be resumed as soon as weather permits, and the trees will be set in when the time is right for planting.

Tabulated below is an itemized list of subscriptions and the amounts paid in by various organizations. Also shown is a list of the expenses incurred, and for what purpose the money was paid out.

Living From Heart

Lesson for January 4, 1953

WHEN YOU are studying a foreign language for the first time, one of the big "humps" is learning the vocabulary. It's dull but necessary. You can know the rules of grammar down to the last footnote; you can pronounce the words "like a native;" but if you don't know what the words mean, you are sunk. All this is just as true in trying to understand the Bible as it is in understanding anything else.

"Heart" Means Many Things

The Bible word "heart" is one of those that can be easily misunderstood. It speaks often of the heart. "Out of it are the issues of life," says the Proverb (Prov. 4:23). "These people honor me with their lips, but their heart is far from me," says the prophet Isaiah. Jesus says that it is what comes from a man's heart that makes him unclean. What, exactly, does "heart" mean, in the Bible? It could mean a number of things that it does not mean.

It is seldom used, in the Bible, in the literal sense of the physical organ that pushes the blood around. No ancient peoples knew the true physiology of the heart. Also, the Bible writers seldom, if ever, use the word in our common figurative sense of emotion, or the emotional life. If we today say that a certain person's heart rules his head, we mean by that, that his intellect is not as strong as his feelings. A smart and unscrupulous lawyer, in addressing a jury, will (as he might say) "go for their hearts, not for their heads." That is, he expects them to be swayed by prejudice and emotion, not by the facts in the case. But this too is not the Bible meaning of "heart." Certainly it is never balanced off against the mind or the intellect.

Bible Meaning of "Heart"

Even in modern times, with all our passion for scientifically accurate terms, there is no one word which means just what this word "heart" means in the Bible. There the heart stands for the center of the personality as a whole. If we used such words as "core" or "root" or "mainspring" of life, we should be getting at the idea. It is not emotional, though it affects the emotions. It is not intellectual, though it lies back of thinking. It does not quite mean character, rather it means the taproot of character.

Let us try to illustrate it. Tell the same piece of news to several people—say the report of some accident or disaster, and see how they react. One will be quite indifferent, one will burst into tears, another will laugh, another will say, "Can't we do something to help?" Now what makes the difference? All have heard the same words, but the words have different effects. In Bible language, the reason is that they have different hearts. The inner makeup is something deeper than what the eyes see or the ears hear, it is deeper than the brain, it lies at the bottom of the feelings. When the Bible speaks of a person's heart, it is not speaking of the way he acts or talks or feels or thinks; it means the way the man is.

God Sees Through Paint

If there was one sort of person for whom Jesus had no use whatever, it was a hypocrite. A hypocrite is a person who has learned the fatal trick of short-circuiting his heart from his outward actions. The hypocrite turns a smile on and off as he would turn a water faucet, not because he feels like smiling or frowning, but because he thinks a smile is called for; he will say one thing and think another. His apparent emotions, language, actions, have no more relation to his real inner self than the actions of a clown in a circus. A clown can act very funny with his painted smile, though inwardly full of bitterness or grief. He acts comical because he is paid for it, not necessarily because he feels gay.

Jesus liked people who live from within, who have no short-circuit between what they are on the outside and what they are on the inside. He did not care much for a fig-tree which was really nothing but figs stuck on a thorn bush. This is why the Bible has so much to say about the heart. If God has a man's heart, he has the man.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority

I've just began going into my crystal windshield and have come up with some predictions about 1953 automobile travel. If you are planning a car trip any time next year — and who isn't? — my findings should interest you.

More families will travel more car-miles for fun in 1953 than ever before in history. This is due to the record number of pleasure cars in use, continued prosperity, and a further increase in both number and length of paid vacations.

Some other predictions: Off-season vacations will increase sharply. More people will take part of their time-off in the winter, spring or fall to take advantage of cheaper rates.

More people will supplement longer vacations with week-end trips, year-round.

All in all, the next twelve months should be great ones for more and better vacation fun!

How Tularemia Is Transmitted by Ticks and Rabbits

To Will County residents the hunting season always brings a grim reminder of the dangers of tularemia. While cases of tularemia occur the year round, most cases occur during the fall and winter.

Although tularemia is not widespread in our state, the disease is by no means insignificant. During the last twenty years, Illinois reported more than 3,000 cases of tularemia among human beings. According to records of the U. S. Public Health Service, this was about twice as many cases as was reported by any other state.

This disease is caused by a bacterium, known as Pasteurella tularensis, and is usually transmitted to man by the bite of an infected tick, by contact of the bare hands with the flesh or blood of infected rabbits, by eating infected rabbit meat that has not been thoroughly cooked, or thru contact with other rodents and mammals. Ordinarily, infection from handling a diseased rabbit develops at the site of a scratch or puncture of the skin. There is, however, considerable evidence that the bacteria may be able to penetrate unbroken skin. Occasionally infection may develop in the eye as a result of contact with the hands, or spattering of water during cleaning of an infected rabbit.

Ticks are the primary host or reservoir for tularemia, and transmit this disease to mammals and birds. Thus, people may become infected with tularemia, at any time of the year if bitten by an infected tick. During hunting season many persons become infected through the handling of rabbits which have become infected.

Mild infections of tularemia may pass unnoticed, but more typically the disease gives rise to chills, fever, vomiting, headache and prostration. Usually an ulcer appears at the site of entry of the organism. Glands at the elbow and armpit are usually enlarged, tender and painful, and may become abscessed. The illness commonly lasts about 3 weeks, followed by a slow convalescence covering a period of two or three months. This disease can be fatal unless proper treatment is administered.

Fortunately tularemia can be easily prevented in man. The measures for personal protection against the disease are at the command of everyone.

Whenever persons are pick-nicking, hunting, fishing, or working in areas where there is tall grass, weeds, or timber, they should wear clothing that fits snugly at the neck, wrists, and ankles. This simple procedure will prevent ticks from crawling under the clothing where they can feed.

Sportsmen should shoot only rabbits that show vigor and can be taken only with difficulty in late stages of tularemia rabbits are sick enough to be much slower than normally. A rabbit infected with this disease often has a peppering of tiny white spots on the liver and spleen. If such spots are noted during cleaning, the carcass should be burned and one's hands should be repeatedly washed with soap and water, and when possible, disinfected. Broken places in the skin should be treated with iodine. Wearing rubber gloves will offer some degree of protection. Even vigorous rabbits may be infected.

Since it is possible for tularemia to be present in apparently healthy rabbits, thorough cooking of the meat is very important. Tularemia contracted by eating insufficiently cooked infected meat, has been found to be especially severe. Cooking until no red juice remains around the bones eliminates this danger of infection.

Midwest and South Leading Country in Sheep Raising

Illinois' sheep-raising industry is stealing some of the West's thunder, says Prof. U. S. Garrigus of the University of Illinois department of animal science.

It is estimated that the West seems to be losing as a sheep-raising area to the midwest and southern states, which are taking over the sheep population.

A recent survey showed that Illinois sheep total is up 25 per cent from this century's low mark. But the country's sheep population had risen only 4 per cent.

Western sheepmen are having their troubles with labor and grazing area problems, Garrigus says.

Meanwhile, midwest farmers have found they can raise roughage crops that improve their land, then feed the crops to sheep although other animals won't eat them.

Greatest handicap to efficient sheep-raising in the past has been "careless and indifferent handling" of sheep and wool.

FRANKFORT

Mrs. Katherine Heisner entertained her family at a turkey dinner in her home Sunday. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Heisner, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Heisner and their families, the Ralph Heisner family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Lange and family from Culver, Ind., and Miss Emma Bauch of Joliet, sister of the hostess and William Davis of Chicago. Everyone had a happy time.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Barleworth entertained Christmas Eve at supper. Mr. and Mrs. Waldon Larson and daughters, Sally and Carol and Earl Yunker. On Christmas the Barleworts were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James York at Frankfort. Sunday the Barleworts were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Larson at Elwood.

Mrs. Victoria Hossbach who has recently moved into her new home on White street entertained at a family dinner Christmas. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lynus Rehberg, of Monee; Mr. and Mrs. William Breidert and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Knater of Joliet.

Because the regular meeting day falls on January 1, the Frankfort Royal Neighbors will meet one week later January 9. This will be installation of officers.

The Tuesday before Christmas Santa Claus came to the Schmuhl school and presented 66 of the children with bags of candy; gifts were also exchanged. A wonderful program was given by the children and solos were sang by Marie Salvato and Danny Owen. It was the true spirit of Christmas with songs of Christmas by the chorus of children. There was a wonderful turn out of the entire community. Refreshments were served after the program.

If anyone should see a "thing" crawling through our subdivisions, please don't become frightened. It is not vegetable, its mineral. It has four wheels and was concocted from everything from an old well pump to a broken down automobile and is usually driven by Paul Korsgaard. It is called the Monster. The only thing we can see wrong with it is that it runs out of petrol. It is a tractor of Pauls own making. Of course Mike Halek and Paul bumped their heads together a few times to make this "thing" possible. Good luck neighbor, this may be the making of a new era.

The hunters in our neighborhood kind of sluffed off on the fox and coon and went hunting Christmas presents instead. They found the latter to be more hazardous.

Roman A. Nowicki flew to Toronto, Canada, Dec. 14 on business, but returned the day before Christmas to spend the holiday with his wife. They spent their Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Glowienke and family at Monee.

The Robert G. Berls' spent their Christmas holiday with his family in Wheaton. Four generations were present.

The Dan Owen family had their Christmas dinner with Mrs. Owens' sister and family in the subdivision, the William Malloy's. Mrs. Church, grandmother and Mrs. Sullivan, mother of Mrs. Owen and Mrs. Malloy were also entertained. There were also four generations of the family present. Later in the evening, they returned to the Owen home, where neighbors and friends were entertained followed by refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Halek entertained a few of their neighbors Christmas Eve. Refreshments were served.

Albert Bettenhausen and Robert Fredin gave a little Christmas party in the office next to the drive-in, Wednesday afternoon for their employees. Lots of fun.

The "Ritts" are back on the job after spending their holiday with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Philip J. LaRocco and family at Bellwood.

Herbert H. Dow (1866-1930) pioneered modern chemical research for new products. Dow was first to "mine" seawater for commercial production of chemicals; produced big volume of bromine to make Ethyl antiknock gas; broke foreign monopoly of bleach and dye chemicals; developed and patented Dowmetals and techniques for producing magnesium structural metal. Dow began business on a shoestring. Today Dow Chemical Co. plants deliver 800 products monthly.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Loebe and family left Monday for Florida where they will spend the next two months. Enroute they will visit with her parents at New Tazewell, Tenn. Folks who have parakeets and allow them to fly at large, had better take notice where it is before they go outdoors, for you may not be as lucky as Ben Weber was when his bird flew away Saturday morning. The bird was on his arm unbeknown to him when he went outdoors. It flew on the eaves of a neighbor's roof who rescued it and returned the bird to Mr. Weber.

Tips on Touring
By Carol Lane
Women's Travel Authority
Night driving increases in winter.
Not only are the hours of darkness longer, but motorists extend their driving time to get to their destination—especially when heading South!
Darkness and drowsiness are friends—but they're not the driver's friends.
Here are some tips to help you avoid fatigue or sleepiness:
1. Eat lightly if you're planning extended night driving. A heavy dinner and heavy eyelids go together.
2. Occasional coffee stops are good "picker-uppers."
3. Keep the car well ventilated.
Avoid excessive use of the heater.
4. Make sure the car seat is adjusted to insure maximum comfort, since poor steering posture can drain your much-needed energy.
5. A car radio is a big help, but select lively "wake-up" music to keep you on the alert.
If, in spite of all your precautions,
the temptation to sleep becomes irresistible, pull off to the side of the road and take Oscar Wilde's advice.
He said "The only way to overcome temptation is to give in to it."

Three 4-H Girls Among Winners of Trips to National Club Congress

Three state winners in national home economics 4-H club award programs have been announced by the State 4-H Club staff at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

They are Joyce Bolton, 20, Keithsburg; Naomi Drake, 19, Forreston; and Norma Jean Kramer, 20, Mason City. All three of these girls have been awarded a trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, November 30—December 4 as a reward for the excellence of their 4-H club work.

A junior in home economics at the University of Illinois, Joyce has been in 4-H club work 11 years. She is the state winner in the national Farm and Home Safety program, sponsored by General Motors Corp. For the past 5 years Joyce has filled out the fire prevention sheet provided by the Extension Service to check fire hazards around the home. Then she enlisted the help of her parents and brother to correct the hazards.

However, the community did not have a fire truck. Joyce helped solicit families in the community to find out whether they would help finance a well pump. She discussed getting a fire truck with the mayor and last year the community bought its fire truck. Then, Joyce could mark "yes" behind all the final inspection checks. She corrected six fire hazards at home in 1949, three in 1950, 20 in 1951 after the family moved into a new house, and this year is correcting hazards in her grandmother's home.

State Girl's Record winner this year is Naomi Drake. A sophomore at Cornell college, she has completed 32 projects in her 10 years of club work. She has made 71 garments, prepared 655 cakes, cookies, dairy foods, yeast and quick bread products, canned 929 quarts, frozen 238 pounds and stored 824 pounds of food.

Norma Jean Kramer, junior at Illinois State Normal university, is state winner in the National Home Improvement program, sponsored by Sears Roebuck and Co. Norma has carried room improvement projects for nine of her 10 years in 4-H club work. In that time she has completed the 5-year room improvement program, has completed 6 dressing table covers, 11 wall hangings and 98 flower arrangements. She made a report at the district 4-H meeting on her 5-year room improvement project and gave a demonstration.

In addition, she has carried 10 projects in clothing and has made 158 garments, bought 10 garments in the buying project, and in 7 foods projects she has canned 504 pints, frozen 356 pints and prepared 57 products. In two years of victory service project she worked a total of 484 hours. She has served as junior leader of her club for 4 years.

A trip to National 4-H Club Congress is one of the highest honors a 4-H club member can achieve. The program is sponsored by the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, Chicago, in cooperation with the Extension Service of the University of Illinois College of Agriculture and the USDA.

WHITE'S HOME BURNS—

France has come back home and re-enlisted. He is now at Great Lakes.

This is the first time the Whites ever had a fire.
George Sangmeister, mayor of Frankfort and Walter Pfaff, village clerk, have offered the following reasons why they refused to allow the Frankfort fire department to respond to the call in Lincoln Estates where the "Doc" White home, owned by Herb and Ida Hilgendorf, of Mokena, burned to the ground early last Friday morning.
They explained that this village truck, unlike those of other nearby community volunteer fire departments, is not owned by the fire department but is owned by the village of Frankfort. In 1941, or thereabouts, when the village bought this new truck, the village paid $7500 on it and $3500 additional came through people who subscribed to it for the life of the truck, and these people paid $25 each.

The Community Club of Lincoln Estates at that time, through a committee of three, went out and raised in that community $600 as their part towards this fire truck, through individual pledges, which was figured in this $3500. The village of Frankfort had previously stated that they would protect the whole community of Lincoln Estates if they would raise $500 towards this, which would have averaged about $5 per home. Lincoln Estates did not accept this offer, it was said. Then, later, this Community Club committee did raise $600 and everyone else who had contributed towards this $3500 fire truck fund was sold the fire protection.

At that time, in 1940, or thereabouts, there was also a committee of three farmers who went outside of the village and into the farming area and collected $25 from each farm and property owner who wanted this protection, and then this group met with the village board after they got the fire truck and drew up a set of rules, and all agreed at that time that this truck was under no circumstances to go out to a fire call to anyone who was not pledged and who had not paid in their money, and this is the rule that still governs and controls the activities of the Frankfort fire department.

Another rule they made was that any one who had paid into this fire district and who later sold their property was to understand that their fire protection became null and void. It would be necessary in this case for the new owner of the property to take out fire protection for himself, in other words, such fire insurance was not transferable.

On a number of different occasions the village board who owns and controls the fire truck and controls its actions claimed that they had sent out notices to all box holders in Frankfort, Monee, Green Garden, and to everyone in their fire district, explaining to them that their membership in this fire district made possible by their contributing the initial fee to it was not transferable. They sent this statement out several times, they claim, and they believe it was published in the News-Bulletin.

On July 6, 1946, the farmers' committee met with the village board and made this rule of non-transference, and everyone who had paid into this fire district was given a number with the instructions that if they ever had a fire they should first give their number, and they have it posted at Village Clerk Walter Pfaff's barber shop, who takes the calls day and night for the fires, and another list is posted at his home and at the fire station, showing just who is to receive this fire protection and who has paid. Mr. Pfaff does this gratis. The rule has been made that the truck is not to go out to anyone whose name is not on this list.

When the first call came in for the White fire in Lincoln Estates, Mr. Pfaff states no name was given, and then, according to Mr. Pfaff, a neighbor called. Mr. Pfaff asked what the name was and the neighbor said he did not know. The fire siren was sounded, but Mr. Pfaff did not ring it and did not know who did. About 15 Frankfort firemen went to the fire.

Besides the valuable keepsakes lost by the two White families in this fire, many were also lost by the Hilgendorfs. Among the valuable and irreplaceable articles lost by the Hilgendorfs was the sword and all the papers of Mrs. Hilgendorf's grandfather, who was a lieutenant in the Civil War and who fought at the Battle of Vicksburg. Also lost was a family Bible that has been in the family for generations, and a rocking chair made of virgin walnut that went across the country in a covered wagon, as well as other priceless furniture she had stored there, in addition to other valuables, their furniture, furnishings and papers.

The Whites are now staying with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Erickson at Mokena.

Tips on Touring

A reader asks: "What is a fair and simple formula for sharing expenses on a car trip?"

The problem of course, is to be fair to the driver who is contributing substantially with the car itself. Depending upon the number of persons making the trip, I recommend one of the following plans:

1. If the car owner and only one other person are making the trip, the simplest plan is to divide all costs on a straight 50-50 basis.

2. With the car owner and two passengers making a trip, the transportation cost per person drops, and it is fair that the two passengers divide the gasoline and oil expenses while all three share other normal expenses.

3. With the owner and three or more passengers, the cost per person drops even more, and the passengers should bear all gasoline-oil-garage expenses, and, in addition, should contribute towards wear and tear on the car. A minimum of one cent a mile is adequate, I think.

A communal kitty into which each person contributes the same amount towards all shared expenses will eliminate much confusion and awkwardness. And, if you rotate the role of "treasurer" each day, you'll be sharing the responsibilities as well as the expenses.

JAN. 3rd! First Showing of the

NEW FORD TRACTOR

Golden Jubilee MODEL

- ★ MOST ADVANCED Hydraulic System in any Tractor!
- ★ EXTRA POWER with New Overhead Valve Engine!

Yes, it goes on display Saturday, Jan. 3rd, ready to show you what a really modern tractor can and should be.

It's ready with extra power, extra size, extra weight. It's ready to demonstrate new handling ease, comfort and convenience.

It's ready also to introduce you to the most advanced hydraulic system in any tractor. We call it Live-Action Hydraulic Control. That means split-second hydraulic response any time the tractor engine is running. Then there's a choice of hydraulic speeds when you want even faster action. It is called Hy-Trol.

This new tractor is ready with its great new overhead valve Ford "Red Tiger" engine. With its greatly reduced piston travel, lessened friction and other advanced design features, this engine develops ample reserve power with new economy of gas and oil.

Most important of all, Ford's Golden Jubilee Model is eager to show you what it can do—what this great combination of modern advancements and every time-proved Ford Tractor advantage means in more and better work, done more easily and more profitably.
